From the Director's Desk

It my privilege to say that in our democratic India 66% of population lives in villages. Where are the poverty, unemployment, health facilities and percentage of literacy the primary problems, our economic system is based on agricultural, social forestry and rural employment, I am from remote small village and grown up by facing above problem.

As I started my careers as social worker in 1990 I concentrate in the fields of forest which is the primary sources of life in rural area. With the help local resident I started CHIPKO movement to saved valuable forestry.

Then I just educated in awareness for cleanness and provide better facilities and atmosphere to new generation who will be our tomorrow.

Finally I am with physical disabled people. As many observation in continuous mainly and it touch with the so called people. I stared a program for them with collaboration with some foreign agency.

Physically disabled people just like us but we have to boost their confidence. My NGOs is working with them to make just like us by making them social aware practically strong and making them confidence to do equally and in parallel with us. We have to provide them facilities that they can generate for self employment and beneficially strong.

Empower DPO federation at panchayat level

Participation

Disabled people's organizations have arisen in response to societal barriers that have prevented the equal participation of people with disabilities, and as a reaction against the control of people with disabilities by others. For a long time, people with disabilities have been spoken for by health professionals, family and others without regard for their needs, priorities or choices. People with disabilities are their own best spokespersons and representatives, as they know best their needs and aspirations. While disabled people's organizations and CBR programmes have differences in their origins and strategies they do share similar goals, e.g. ensuring equal opportunities and social inclusion of disabled people. It is important that both disabled people's organizations and CBR have mutual respect for each other and work towards developing successful partnerships to meet these common goals and ensure the implementation of the Convention on the Rights of Persons with Disabilities. Organized panchayat level DPOs federation meeting about strengthening and improved their leadership quality as well as regular monthly meeting with specific issue on people with disabilities like: certification, pension, reservation, livelihood and according to RPWDs act and policy 2016. 140 DPOs meeting had been organized.

Empower block/district level DPOs federation

Disabled people in the developing world often face more acute barriers than those in developed nations. Up to 80% of disabled persons live in isolated rural areas in the developing world. In some countries 20% of the populations are disabled. Thus, it can be estimated that, when disabled people's relatives are included, 50% of the population is affected by disability. In addition, disabled people are the poorest of the poor. They often do not have access to adequate medical services. As a result disabilities are often not detected in time to minimize disability affects. By the time they receive medical attention, if at all, impairment may have become irreversible,

Organized District level and block level DPO meeting about Rights of Persons with Disabilities Rules, 2017, Rights of persons with disabilities Act 2016 and policy, medical certification camp, govt. scheme and reservation, education facilities for Children with disability, certification, pension, ration card, formation CBR committee, group formation, people with disability participation in local body, skill training, livelihood and process of formation Block and district level DPOs federation. 4 blocks and 1 District level DPOs meeting had been organized with 195 People with disabilities participation

State level DPOs meeting

The role of these organizations includes providing a voice of their own, identifying needs, expressing views on priorities, evaluating services and advocating change and public awareness. As a vehicle of self development, these organizations provide the opportunity to develop skills in the negotiation process, organizational abilities, mutual support, information sharing and often vocational skills and opportunities. In view of their vital importance in the process of participation, it is imperative that their development be encouraged. Organize 1 state level DPOs meeting with participation of 38 including People with disabilities and DPO Leaders about social, political, economical development of Person with Disabilities, RPWDs act and policy 2016, reservation, People with disabilities lokpal, mantralaya, inclusive education, certification, pension, Role and responsibilities of CVJF Federation and formation

Inclusive education

Education refers to the discipline that is concerned with the method of teaching and learning in school or school like environments as opposed to the various non-formal and formal means of socialization. Education is the tool which helps the people become the better citizen, to difference between the good and bad, to get the better job opportunity. It shows us the importance of hard work, at the same time, help us to grow and develop. Thus the education helps us shape the society to live in by knowing the respecting right, laws and regulation.

Person with disabilities often have lower education accomplishments, poor health conditions, higher poverty rate and less economic engagements than people without disabilities. They are disabled not only with their bodies but society as well. Children with the disability faces discrimination in terms of the unable to access the teaching learning materials and the communicate with their tutor and the fellow mate. This leads the low participation of the child with the disability

Home based education

The Field staffs of MSS visited the homes of the CWDs and ensured the continuation of the education of children at their homes. They also conducted the inclusive education sessions. As most of the schools are closed since 2020, the educations of the children are at stake. Children of poor families do not have the required technological support to continue their studies and left alone the children with disabilities. The CBR workers of MSS here played a vital role in keeping the children's education in track. They not only provided home based education to CWDs but also inclusive sessions helped other children to stay engaged with their education

Forest conservation and its natural resources

Empower community people about forest conservation and its natural resources is the practice of planting and maintaining forested areas for the benefit and sustainability of future generations. The conservation of forest also stands & aims at a quick shift in the composition of trees species and age distribution. Forest conservation involves the upkeep of the natural resources within a forest that are beneficial to both humans and the environment. Forests are vital for human life because they provide a diverse range of resources: they store carbon & act as carbon sink, produce oxygen which is vital for existence of life on the earth, so they are rightly called as earth lung, help in regulating hydrological cycle, planetary climate, purify water, provide wild life habitat(50% of the earth's biodiversity occurs in forests), reduce global warming, absorb toxic gases & noise, reduce pollution, conserve soil, mitigate natural hazards such as floods& landslides & so on. But now-a-days, forest cover is depleting rapidly due to many reasons such as an expansion of agriculture, timber plantation, other land uses like pulp and paper plantations, urbanization, construction of roads, industries, constitutes the biggest and severe threat to the forest causing serious environmental damage. Thus, there is need of public awareness. This paper offers various strategies for the conservation of forest & awareness to people, which plays a vital role

Empowerment on PESA

To empower on Panchayat (Extension of the Scheduled Areas) Act, 1996 or PESA, was enacted by the Centre to ensure self-governance through gram sabhas (village assemblies) for people living in scheduled areas. It legally recognizes the right of tribal communities, residents of the scheduled areas, to govern themselves through their own systems of self-government, and also acknowledges their traditional rights over natural resources. In pursuance of this objective, PESA empowers gram sabhas to play a key role in approving development plans and controlling all social sectors. This includes the processes and personnel who implement policies, exercising for maintaining a proper balance of environment. So, we must get involved in this national task, total 254 people were aware about forest conservation.

control over minor (non-timber) forest resources, minor water bodies and minor minerals, managing local markets, preventing land alienation and regulating intoxicants among other things. PESA rules enable the residents of scheduled areas to strengthen their village-level bodies by transferring power from the government to the gram sabha, a body of all the registered voters of the village. The powers of gram sabhas include maintenance of cultural identity and tradition, control over schemes affecting the tribal's, and control over natural resources within the area of a village. Total 176 people were empowered on PESA act and its implementation procedure.

Water conservation

Empower community people about Water conservation and the process of restoration of water. Usually the wastage of water should be utilized for agricultural, animals wash, the careful use and preservation of water supply and it includes both the quantity and quality of water utilized. Water is an essential asset for the nourishment of all human beings and wild life. The fundamental demand for all activities appropriates local use to the agricultural industry. With the regular expanding weight of the human population, there has been serious tension on water resources. Negligence of customary water bodies like tanks and lakes, unpredictable abuse of groundwater, and incorrect preservation of surface water systems have bothered the issue. There is various ways to conservation the wastage water like: build stop dam & drinking water facilities. 1 stop dam has been made by the support of community people, PRI leaders, local leaders, women at bhandardehi village of koriya district.

Plantation

Planting a tree is a lifelong investment. How well this investment grows depends on the type of tree selected and the planting location, the care provided during planting and the follow-up care after planting. Getting your new tree off to a healthy start will help the tree mature to its full size and ensures it will provide environmental, economic and social benefits throughout its lifetime. Organize Tree plantation program at Bhandardehi, Jhapimahua, Kadrenwa villages. Proper tree selection like: Mango, Guava, Azadirachtaindica, Indian gooseberry and Aegle marmelos because in create a good environment with green, total 1500-2000 small and large species of plantation have been planted with the support of school children & community people.

Empowerment of FRA

To empower community people about strengthening local self governing to address the livelihood security of the people, leading to poverty alleviation. Address the issue of conservation and management of the natural resources and conservation, forest right act to assure those people who are living in the forest area to access the right of the natural resources. 123 Individual forest rights had been certified by the approval of gramsabha at kadrenwa, bhandardehi, bhukbhuki villages of Koriya district of surajpur.

Capacities building training of DPOs leaders

Capacities build training of master trainer for establishment of demonstration unit.

The concept of the master trainer training is to establishment of demonstration unit to reduce the economical barriers of people of disabilities at community level. The role of master trainers is to establish sustainable demonstration unit for economic development of people with disabilities at community level. Disability-inclusive development means that all stages of development processes are inclusive of and accessible to persons with disabilities. It requires that all persons be afforded equal access to education, health care services, work and employment, and social protection, among others. Disability-inclusive development policy and practice is constantly changing and evolving. It is a foundational part of our work in CBM, underpinning all that we do. It requires us to be constantly reflecting, learning and improving our practice. In particular looking to the deeper questions: of the relationships and representation of people with disabilities within our work; and how we partner with Disabled Peoples Organizations (DPOs) to achieve transformative, systemic change in the countries where we work. However, now the real work begins to achieve these global development goals: and ensure that people with disabilities are fully engaged as active agents of change and rights holders in line with the Convention on the Rights of Persons with Disabilities (CRPD). The Followings questions were developed and at the end necessary feedback was provided from the Resource Person. Elements of Disability Inclusion Development (DID); Awareness creation, Participation, Accessibility, Twin track approach; Empowerment Awareness Creation is the first step, which involves village level meetings, family visit, skits, wall writing and Pamphlets distribution. The main notion is to create awareness around the society on People with Disability. This also involves training their mindset around the existing tradition and the cultural barrier. Participation involves bringing society together as a group, providing a positive awareness and strengthening their group socially. Accessibility being one of the important aspects of DID, it's a practice in enabling their right to access and the use of assistive technology. The accessibility doesn't only limit to this rather on enabling the culture of barrier free environment for independence, convenience and safety. Twin trek approach, on one hand used for advancing rights for the marginalized population, i.e., the people with disability. One the other hand, targeting the need through various intervention of the governmental scheme. Empowerment means providing a sense of Independence in the aspect of decision making, rights. Livelihood Basket Training Report; Then the need of the Rehabilitation and livelihood for the People with Disability was explained. He also tried to include the twin trek approach, which being the major asset to build a better life of the person with disability. He further added that the approach commonly used for advancing rights for the marginalized population, i.e., the people with disability. One the other hand, targeting the need through various intervention of the governmental scheme. Sustainable livelihood Framework Human assets, Physical assets, Economical assets, Natural assets, and Social assets, DFID, Robert Chamber (1919). The livelihoods framework is a tool to improve our understanding of livelihoods, particularly the livelihoods of the poor. This presents the main factor that affects people's livelihoods, and typical relationship between these. It been used for development planning activities and assessing the contribution to livelihood sustainability. Disability inclusive sustainable development They tried to raise many questions on behalf of the issues based out with Disability Inclusive Sustainable Development to have a brief open discussion: Why they are not included in any sustainable livelihood activity, the poverty is mostly linked with the Person with Disability, What are the different measures to eradicate. Total 36 staff members were participated

Livelihood training for people with disabilities and family members

All women and men with disabilities can and want to be productive members of society. In both developed and developing countries, promoting more inclusive societies and employment opportunities for people with disabilities requires improved access to basic education, vocational training relevant to labour market needs and jobs suited to their skills, interests and abilities, with adaptations as needed. Many societies are also recognizing the need to dismantle other barriers, making the physical environment more accessible, and providing information in a variety of formats, and challenging attitudes and mistaken assumptions about Persons with Disabilities (PwDs). It is in this context that the UNDP, New Delhi and the Indian Planning Commission, carried out a review and research study in 2010, which documented the status and consolidated the existing experiences and innovations of various government and non-government initiatives that are taking forward programmes and processes of creating livelihood opportunities for PwDs. The knowledge and practical understanding gained from this review exercise has given valuable insights into the possible ways and means of livelihood improvement for PwDs, which are being formulated into a set of recommendations to be shared with the relevant policy makers and agencies both at the national and state government level in their progress towards social inclusion and poverty reduction. The report will also feed into the FYP on measures for inclusion and livelihood improvement of Persons with Disabilities. Total 27 people with disabilities and family members were participated.

Capacities build training of community stakeholders on causes and early detection of disabilities

The training of community stakeholders on the cause of early detection is being one of the primary steps towards prevention the person of Disabilities. It is said that with the early identification of disabilities, there are better rehabilitation option. So, it is important requirement that the community, the existing local leaders or the government stakeholder should well aware of their detection and to administer them in their urgent need. However the concern towards the development and the inclusion of People with disabilities shall advance, only if the community and the People with disabilities participate for the same goal. On 22nd of December, Training conducted with The community stakeholder such as, Health

Training for DPOs Member on the concept of Disability Inclusive Development (DID), national Laws and Government Programs

The implementation of RPWD act and policy 2016 procedure at grassroots level. In that training DPOs member were told about the process of specific issue on people with disabilities like: certification, pension, unique ID, assistive device, accessibility, inclusive education, reservation in local bodies, employment opportunity etc. Disabled people's organizations have arisen in response to societal barriers that have prevented the equal participation of people with disabilities, and as a reaction against the control of people with disabilities by others. Community as well as Government institution are mostly unaware with the concept of DID. There inaccessibility is highly related to the education and their choices. There rights and issues of entitlement are mostly untouched. So, the concept should be bringing into notice. Our impact/choices are mostly limited to certain extent. The grassroots practice and implementation mainly should starts from the person with disability. People with disabilities are their own best spokespersons and representatives, as they know best their needs and aspirations. Promote and strengthen DPOs federation for those poor people with disability who are really need financial support, according to their financial status of families.
